

Celebrating a Remarkable Fall Semester at Stevens Institute of Technology

From: Nariman Farvardin, President

To: Stevens Students, Faculty and Staff

As we wrap up an extraordinary fall semester at Stevens, I am honored to share with you some of the highlights that have defined it — welcoming stellar new cohorts of undergraduate and graduate students, celebrating our faculty contributions, expanding our research enterprise and making meaningful connections with our alumni, among many others — in the above video.

I am filled with pride and gratitude for the collaborative spirit of the Stevens community. I encourage all of us to carry this spirit into the new year, dedicated to the pursuit of excellence.

I extend warm wishes to you and your loved ones for a safe and joyful winter break!

Per aspera ad astra,

Nariman Farvardin
President
