To the Stevens Community:

I am delighted to share highlights of the Fall 2022 semester at Stevens. This brief video showcases some of the most exciting activities and achievements our community has experienced during the last few months, including welcoming stellar new cohorts of undergraduate and graduate students, attracting a cadre of truly exceptional faculty, record-breaking research achievements, our first-ever Fall Festival, the LEED Gold Certification of our new University Center Complex and winning athletics programs, among many others.

It is only through the collaboration and hard work of our students, faculty, staff, alumni and friends that these achievements are possible. Thank you and I look forward to continuing our great work in the new year.

I wish you a warm and safe winter break!

Per aspera ad astra,

Nariman Farvardin
President
