This Thanksgiving, We Celebrate You

From: Nariman Farvardin, President

To: Stevens Students, Faculty and Staff

In this season of gratitude, we celebrate the vibrant spirit at Stevens.

From groundbreaking research to meaningful partnerships, from the energy of student life to the thrill of athletic competition, our community continues to excel and inspire.

Whether in our classrooms, our labs or across our beautiful campus, extraordinary things happen when bright minds come together.

We're thankful for each member of our Stevens family — students, faculty, staff, alumni and friends — whose dedication makes every achievement possible.

This Thanksgiving, we celebrate you. Together, we're not just embracing the future — we're creating it.

Happy Thanksgiving from Stevens Institute of Technology.

Per aspera ad astra.
